Coulthurst STATEMENT

Independence League Candidate for Mayor Denounces as False the Statement That He Is About to Withdraw from the Contest in Favor of Some Other Person.

John A. Coulthurst, the Independence League candidate for Mayor, to-day issued the following statement:

"The report that I am to retire as a candidate for Mayor in favor of some other man is absolutely without foundation. Under no circumstances will I get out of this race.

"I still have a few drops of red blood left in my veins. I intend to live the rest of my life here in Boston, and I want to be able to look my friends, new and old, in the face.

"I AM NO QUITTER. I am in this fight not only to a finish, but to win. The crowds that have been attending my rallies on the two opening nights of my campaign are sufficient testimony to my strength. It is these crowds and their enthusiasm that have aroused the desperate tactics of my Democratic opponent, who fears me more than he does Mr. Hibbard, and has resorted to his well-known UNDERGROUND METHODS to weaken my candidacy.

"No man two weeks before election ever had a better chance of being chosen Mayor of Boston than I have to-day. That is my firm and honest opinion."

LYING REPORTS.

This statement by Mr. Coulthurst was called forth by an article printed in a morning paper, in which it was alleged that a scheme had been hatched by certain politicians to pull Mr. Coulthurst out of the fight for the mayoralty and to install in his place John H. Casey or Thomas J. Kenney.

Stories of this kind have been printed frequently of late in papers that are not reporting Mr. Coulthurst. Before the recent election these same papers were ignoring Hibbard and making fun of Moran's campaign. They were so shocked by the vote for Moran and Hibbard in Boston that they have now adopted a different course in dealing with the Independence League. Before, they ignored the League; now, they lie about it.

RALLIES TONIGHT.

Mr. Coulthurst will speak to-night at the Ward 10 ward room, Rice Schoolhouse, Appleton and Dartmouth streets and at the Ward 11 ward room, Prince Schoolhouse, Exeter street.

John A. Coulthurst, Independence League candidate for Mayor, will be the principal speaker. John J. Walsh, a Republican lawyer of Ward 23, will be among the other speakers, who will also include aldermanic and councilmanic candidates.

MARKET BULL, PRICES LOWER

In sympathy with the general feeling in Wall Street, Boston prices were mostly all lower to-day and dullness was prevalent.

ARMENIANS DE; KURDS PL SWORD AND TORCH

SMYRNA, Nov. 24.—Sweeping the province of Harber, Asia Minor, with a force reported, attacked through the entire province, apparently bent on completely wiping out the Armenian Christian population. The massacre was attended by frightful pictures of the victims, women being tortured, men mutilated and children murdered by scores before their parents' eyes.

FEAR FATE F 75 IN MID-OCEAN

French Fisherman Two Months Missing of Voyage of Fortnight.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Nov. 26.—Missing in mid-Atlantic in the St. Pierre schooner Angler, with seventy-five French fishermen, there has practically been given up that the Angler will ever be found, according to advices from North Sydney.

On a voyage that usually takes no more than two weeks, the Angler has been gone two months, and no trace have been found by other vessels which have been on the lookout for her and her load of human freight.

Since the Angler put out from St. Pierre two months ago, she has disappeared completely from the face of the earth. No trace of the schooner had been seen since then. The fishermen had had a good season's fishing and were returning home with some reeling from St. John to New York.

From a state of mid-ocean, where families have now gathered in despair of ever hearing again of the seventy-five who put forth in the Angler.

PET SOLD TO LEARN HIS FATE TO-DAY

Arguments on Both Sides Concluded, Case Is Submitted to the Jury.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 26.—Ernest A. Pet sold will know this afternoon whether he is to be committed of any crime in the death of little Helen May Brown or whether he is to be acquitted on a term in jail. The jury has the case under consideration, and it is believed will come to a decision some time today.

Lewis A. Waterman, senior counsel for the defense, made his argument to the jury today. Mr. Waterman contended that the State had failed in every connection in its endeavor to make Edward Butler of a crime. They had absolutely failed, he said, to show the cause of the child's death.

The counsel called attention to the fact that while the State placed great stress on the fact that the child was found on the child's neck that Mr. George A. Butler, the medical examiner, who performed the autopsy, had failed to make mention of the presence of such a bruise in his report.

Mr. Bruce, Mr. Waterman said, testified that he didn't see such a bruise. The State had failed to show that such a bruise had any connection with the child's death. The defense, counsel contended, might easily have been due to a bruise in the child's neck.

THOUGHT MRS. BRADLEY LUNATIC, SAYS WITNESS

IMPORTANT TESTIMONY FOR DEFENSE IN THE BROWN MURDER TRIAL.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 26.—"I made a specialty of nervous and mental diseases."

This testimony given by Dr. Isaac Rich as the first witness today in the trial of Mrs. Anna E. Bradley for the murder of former Mayor Arthur Brown, was regarded as a coup card by the defense.

Dr. Rich testified to the woman's alleged sane actions in the Hotel Raleigh long before the tragedy, was the "surprise witness" of the trial. His testimony did not shake the jury by the government's cross-examination.
